

Shrimp Boats Am 'A Comin'

In the early hours of the morning, several times each week from May through October, boat crews push away from the old town docks at Thunderbolt, Ga., and set out to sea in search of crago vulgaris.

That's the many-legged crustacean, commonly called shrimp, whose meaty taste has tickled the palate of people all over the U.S.

If the weather is good and the fishermen have good luck, the boats will return at sunset two days later loaded with over a thousand pounds of shrimp apiece.

Each boat drags two nets which are pulled up and emptied every two and a half hours. The frequent emptying is necessary since "trash"—crabs, fish and other things—fill up the nets.

The crew of two, a captain and a helper called a striker, work the nets from dawn until dusk and then anchor at a calm spot for the night. At dawn they put their nets down again.

A good catch is 15 baskets of shrimp, about 1,500 pounds. Prices vary but shrimp sometimes brings as much as $100 per basket.

After October, at the end of the local shrimp season, the Thunderbolt boats work their way down towards Florida, reaching as far south as Key West before finally returning in the Spring for repairs and overhaul.

Back in port the shrimp is unloaded, washed and shipped to markets all over the country.

Thusly the gourmet can have his shrimp boiled, broiled, baked, spiced, creoled or whatever way may please his fancy.

TASTY BITS: A handful of freshly caught shrimp that will soon decorate tables all over the U.S.

IN SEARCH OF SHRIMP: A shrimp boat, nets swung out on booms, plies the Georgia coastal waters. Each boat costs about $50,000.

SORTING JOB: The striker sorts shrimp and trash fish, piling the shrimp into a basket and sweeping the trash fish overboard. Good trips may net 15 baskets of shrimp.

NET TRASH: A four foot hammer-head shark was found with shrimp.

SEA HARVEST: The drag nets are pulled up every two and a half hours and the contents dumped on the deck. The nets and rigging cost $1,000.

DAWN TO DUSK: Shrimpers swing out their nets at the crack of dawn and work through the day until the sun sets. Setting the nets or taking them up usually takes about an hour.

FINAL FEW: Last of a net full of shrimp is unloaded on boat's deck.

HOMeward BOUND: After a successful two days of shrimping, Miss Susie heads back to her home port of Thunderbolt on the Georgia coast.

Rhodesia Has Trade Surplus

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesia has reported a foreign trade surplus of more than $16.8 million in the first six months of this year despite the economic sanctions against Britain's rebellious colony. But total foreign trade was down sharply.

Last year, Rhodesia had a trade deficit of $8.4 million.

Finance Minister John Wrathall's annual budget message to Parliament Thursday showed that the surplus resulted from a drop in imports almost twice as large as the drop in exports.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

ANSWERS TO A JUNIOR SATIRIST

Dear Helen: Recently you printed a letter by a 14-year-old pacifist. This girl works on the school paper with me and I would like to write something in response. Though it may not be as clever as hers, I think it has more thought behind it.

First she asks, "Why do we put our noses into other peoples' business and let our men get killed for them?" We were asked to help this nation with its poor, struggling, war-tired and terrified people and we promised that as long as there was a government we would help. Some people keep their promises. Also we must remember we are not fighting just for the Vietnamese, but rather to stop the spread of communism. We mustn't think that because freedom is here today it will also be here tomorrow. Maybe it won't. Especially if we become known as "quitters."

Next she asks, "Why do we give aid to those who don't want it?" Most want it. Those who don't, get heard and written about. The United States has a conscience; we don't want to see people starve and die.

To Peace Marchers, I ask, "How can people with so much luxury, freedom and time to read about unfortunate others turn their backs to their plea for help?" — Appreciative

Dear Helen: Your "Loyal Admirer," the satirical pacifist, forgets that as long as we stand up and fight communism, there will be no nuclear war. If we allow the communists to take over one country after another, someday we'll be fighting them in Seattle instead of Saigon.

The Eisenhower Doctrine says that we will help any nation fighting communism. Lebanon remained free because of it. The Dominican Republic would now be in communist hands had not our Marines landed in April, 1965.

I am a 19-year-old college student, and I believe the war in Vietnam should be escalated by bombing Hanoi and closing the port of Haiphong. I do not believe in "Better Red than dead." — LARRY

Dear Helen: I wonder if "Loyal Admirer" knows what would happen to him (or her) if he wrote such an anti-government letter in a communist country? Quick, L. A., to the salt mines! We elected men to run our country and we should cooperate with them. — SUSAN, AGE 16

Dear Helen: We must love our enemies and do good to them that persecute us. War is the confession that we have not learned this lesson well. War has never solved our problems, and it never will. — HOPEFUL FOR A BETTER WORLD

Dear Readers: Letters mainly from young people near draft age are now running 20 to one in favor of our Government policy in Vietnam. They come from soldiers in the thick of jungle fighting. "Those peace-marchers are screwballs. . . If they were over here with us, they see immediate withdrawal isn't the answer, and their 'idealism' doesn't work against Communists." They come from wives, draftees, students, and in such numbers that I am making the column over-ling today so that you may see how those who will lose the most react to their country's policy. Following is one of the best:

Dear Helen: I considered the letter from the empty-headed velvet-tongued young pacifist an amusing satire, until I sobered and realized some people actually believe this way. May I answer her with a parallelism.

In the vast farm belts of the is indicated with boundaries and fences as in the rest of the world. Neighbors quarrel, petty rivalries cause bad blood. Yet these stubborn farmers will stand shoulder to shoulder with their neighbors to fight a common deadly peril—the brush fire. With enough people and enough back-breaking work, the hungry fury can be stopped. But if, in his love of self, the farmer whose field is not in immediate danger, sits upon his porch and thinks, "That's HIS worry, besides he dislikes me," then he will be rudely awakened.

When his neighbor has been conquered, the fiery menace will move across the field and up the porch until the passive farmer MUST wake up or die in his sleep.

Communism moves as the brush fire. We in America have been lucky—the wind has been favorable. But the wind will change! Sparks are already being blown in, and shallow-thinking peace criers are kindling them. Political differences cannot interfere with the fight against a mutual threat of such magnitude. This is why we must continue to beat the brush in Vietnamese jungles. Help prevent forest fires! — KAY, AGE 17.

Prepare For A Power Failure Experts Advise

Keep flashlights in good working order. Check them every month or so to make sure they are still working, and replace any weak or dead batteries immediately. Store flashlights away from heat, not in a drawer next to the kitchen stove, or by a furnace. Use flashlights sparingly, since they are designed for short-time use; do not use them for prolonged lighting. Check to see if the switches work properly, and be sure you turn switches off when you put flashlights away.

Keep flashlights in strategic positions around the house — next to the fuse box, in the master bedroom, kitchen, garage, and, if you live in a multilevel house, near the stairs.

A battery-operated radio is vital for communications during a breakdown. The only people who knew what had happened during the 1965 blackout in New York and New England were those with battery radios, and the information they passed along helped prevent panic. If you don't have a battery radio in the house remember you can use your car radio.

If you have a garage, keep a battery-operated lantern there for outdoor use.

DEACON CHOSEN BY LOT

ELMIRA, Ont. (AP) — Old Order Mennonites "made a deacon" here recently.

The choice was made by the custom of choosing a man by lot. The method is based on Acts 1:26: "And they gave forth their lots; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the 11 Apostles."

More than 200 horses and buggies were tethered outside the meeting house for the selection.

The deacon is in charge of the congregation's welfare. He first interviews backsliders. He must see that enough food, clothing and sustenance is available for widows and the needy.

It is an onerous position, held for life and there is no remuneration.

Citizens Of Hempstead County:

As your Representative in the Arkansas Legislature, I thank you for your past support and I sincerely solicit your vote and support as a candidate for re-election. As most of you know, I was born and reared in Hempstead County, and have lived here all of my life. I graduated from Hope High School, and the University of Arkansas, School of Law at Fayetteville. My interests are your interests, and your interests are my interests. As your Representative, I have always worked and cooperated to the fullest for the development and advancement of Hempstead County.

During a regular session of the Legislature about 1,200 votes are taken on the floor of the House of Representatives. During the morning hours committee meetings are held. Many of you have from time to time, been before Legislative Committees on which I serve. They are: Budget, Constitutional Amendments, Revenue and Taxation, and Rules. I am Chairman of the Roads and Highways Committee. Because of your continued support it is my privilege to serve on these important Committees and thus better represent you. Much of the most important business of the Legislature takes place during Committee Sessions. It is there that proposed and pending bills are explained, discussed, and changes and deletions made for final recommendation.

In each regular session of the Legislature the 100 members elect 24 members to serve on the Arkansas Legislative Council. My colleagues have elected me to serve on the Legislative Council and I am now serving my sixth year as a member of that body. When the Legislature is not in session the Legislative Council meets once each month, and sometimes more often, as the business of our State Government is a continuing operation. In the late fall, prior to the convening of the regular session of the Legislature, the Council meets daily to consider the budgets of all departments, agencies and commissions of our State Government. Among these budgets that will be considered and passed on this fall are the following concerning Hempstead County: The Red River Vocational School; the University of Arkansas Experiment Station; the Arkansas Highway Department, the Employment Security Division, the Welfare Department; the Game and Fish Commission; the Arkansas State Police; the Arkansas Revenue Department; and the Arkansas National Guard.

Knowing your needs, desires and interests, I pledge you that, with your continued support, I will as I have in the past, represent you to the best of my ability. Your vote and support on July 26th will be sincerely appreciated.

BROTHERS—John Wayne portrays the oldest of four brothers. He's the toughest: the gun-slinger, Dean Martin plays a different breed of hombre; good with a deck of cards and good with a gun when he has to be. They star with Earl Holliman, Michael Anderson, Jr., and Martha Hyer in Hal Wallis' "The Sons of Katie Elder," a Paramount release in Technicolor and Panavision.

TIMELY QUOTES

One of the difficulties we're in now is an overexaggeration of individualism . . . that's one of the reasons why people say, "You've got no right to draft me—I'm an individual, I'm against this."
—Selective Service Director Hershey.

HEAR THESE WORDS

Worship In Church Every Week

...Keep Plodding

That's the spirit of the turtle. But he must not be kept from the race if there is to be a winner. God planned so wisely in setting us in a world of competition. No one runs his best without a competitor. We raise better corn when our neighbor tries to outdo us. Every church is better because of the church across the way. Catholics work harder and are more devout because Protestantism appeared. The Jewish polity strives, with all of us, toward a better society under God. God wants progress from all. Sometimes the faithful plodder, like the turtle, is a greater inspiration than one with more ability. May our pastor and our church grow into greater forces for good because of the faithful attendance and support of every member. May we keep plodding in wholesome competition.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Whimsical Lead Is Rewarding

By JACOBY & SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is another unusual bridge problem for you. Look over all the cards and see if you can figure out how South managed to go down three tricks at his four-spade contract without playing give-away bridge.

The answer lies in a whimsical but highly effective lead by West. He opened his king of hearts!

South liked the lead. Obviously West didn't have a club to lead to his partner and it seemed certain the heart lead was from a suit headed by the king and queen.

South could see no way to avoid the eventual loss of three club tricks unless he could get to discard a club on dummy's third heart. That was not likely but no other play appeared to offer any chance for success.

South allowed the king of hearts to hold. West led a second heart and the jack was played from dummy. East produced the queen while South produced a look of utter astonishment.

East cashed three high clubs while West jettisoned his last three hearts. Then East led his third heart. South ruffed with a high trump to establish West's ten as the sixth trick for the defense.

The statement that West's lead of the king of hearts was whimsical is mild indeed. We didn't see the hand and while it was reported to us by a reliable authority, we wonder about it.

Sam Snead Still Swinging

By JOE MOOSHIL Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Swinging Sammy Snead is tickling the hearts of oldtimers the world over with his youthful early footing in the PGA's Golden Anniversary Championship.

No longer The Slammer by his own admission, the 54-year-old West Virginian left behind him a field packed with youngsters who weren't born when Snead won his first golf championship.

Snead shot a 36-35—71 Friday for a 139 total and was the only one under par at the halfway mark of the tournament over the 7,180-yard, par 35-35—70 Firestone Country Club course.

Mets Down Dodgers 3-0, Houston Wins

By MURRAY CHASS Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Mets have quit messing around with Ron Swoboda, and now he's messing around with everyone else.

Swoboda, who complained last month that the Mets were restricting his effectiveness by playing him irregularly, hit a two-run homer that sealed the Mets' latest victory.

In New York's two previous games, both with San Francisco, Swoboda hit a 10th-inning homer that gave the Mets a 3-2 victory — rapped three hits — and drove in three runs in their 14-3 triumph.

The 22-year-old slugger has been playing every day recently, which is what he felt he should have been doing the entire season.

"They've been messing around with me," Swoboda complained about six weeks ago. "They messed around with me at the end of last season, and they've been doing it again. If you have to sit around and not play for three days, you might as well quit.

"It's the young guys who are going to make this ball club. But how's a young player supposed to learn when he's in and out? I've only batted against a couple of righties. You can't learn that way. If I have to be platooned, I'll look for something else to do."

The Giants and Dodgers wouldn't mind that at all.

While the Mets remained one-half game out of eighth and moved to within one game of seventh, the Giants climbed to first place in the National League by defeating Philadelphia 4-1 behind Gaylord Perry, who pitched a two-hitter and struck out 15.

Elsewhere in the NL, Houston defeated Pittsburgh 5-2, Cincinnati whipped Atlanta 8-2 and St. Louis knocked off Chicago 9-4.

In the American League, Baltimore trimmed Chicago 3-1, Detroit defeated Cleveland 10-5, California stopped New York 6-4, Boston edged Minnesota 6-5 in 11 innings and Kansas City whipped Washington 7-2.

Swoboda's homer, off Claude Osteen, came in the eighth inning. The Mets also scored in the third on Ron Hunt's single. Bob Friend blanked the Dodgers on eight hits.

Perry held the Phillies hitless for seven innings, but Clay Dalrymple led off the eighth with a line single to right field. Perry struck out Rich Allen four times and Bill White three. Willie McCovey drove in three San Francisco runs with a homer and a double.

Houston's Larry Dierker gave up home runs to Bob Bailey and Willie Stargell, but the Astros already had built a 4-0 lead in the first inning. Bailey's error, doubles by Rusty Staub, Lee Maye and Bob Aspromonte and Ron Brand's single accounted for the unearned runs.

Cincinnati exploded for six runs in the sixth inning, three on Leo Cardenas' double and two on Pete Rose's homer. That wiped out Atlanta's 2-1 lead. Frank Bolling scored both of the Braves' runs, the first on a first-inning homer.

It Says Here

Statistics prove: The safest form of travel for an American is neither car, train nor plane, nor ship—but in orbit. Not a single fatality or injury in million and millions of passenger miles since the beginning of the U.S. space program. No other form of transportation can approach this record—which only shows how easy it is to prove almost anything with statistics.—Montgomery (Ala.) Journal.

Howzat Again, Please?

How do you figure this one out? A British publisher preparing new editions of A.A. Milne's children's classic, Winnie the Pooh, says he is cutting out 90 per cent of the text because he thinks its whimsicality is too sophisticated for the kids.

But on the other hand—a commission of distinguished American scholars after deep and thoughtful study, has decided that our children are so mentally advanced that they should start school at the age of four instead of dawdling around until six.

There is only one logical comment: 'Pooh'-Anniston, Ala. Star.

Frenchman to Explore Death Valley

DEATH VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Only three pairs of socks and sneaker soles separate a French explorer from ground temperatures as high as 190 degrees as he attempts to hike the length of this national monument.

Park officials offer best wishes, but no help if he disappears. Jean Pierre Marquant, 28, who once spent 103 days hiking over 1,000 miles of Algerian desert, is the first person officials know of deliberately attempting a crossing of Death Valley in summer.

He started the 100-mile trek at sundown Wednesday wearing a 10-gallon hat, three T-shirts, gloves, short pants, three pairs of socks and tennis shoes. Marquant also has blue-tinted glasses and a large umbrella.

Death Valley literally is the hottest spot on earth. Officials say average temperatures in July run from 100 to 130 degrees in the shade, with ground surface temperatures as high as 190 degrees.

Because of this heat, a ground search party will not be sent to look for Marquant if he should fail to turn up at a checkpoint. "It would be impossible in this heat," Chief Ranger Homer Leach told the former French paratrooper.

"The only help we can offer is to place a call to Edwards or George Air Force Bases and request a helicopter fly the area to try to spot you," he added.

A support party traveling by truck is scheduled to meet Marquant daily and provide fresh water, iced soda pop, clothing and other supplies.

"We admire Marquant's courage," Dwight T. Warren, park naturalist said. "We have serious doubts he will succeed."

Nader, Safety Council Swap Hand Slaps

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Ralph Nader and the National Safety Council gave each other the back of their hands today on the question who's done what for safer automobiles.

Nader, crusader for "crash-worthy" cars, said the council is dominated by the auto industry, that it has never criticized a single model of automobile, not even "the outrageous dagger fins of the late 1950s."

Now that federal legislation is being passed to set safety standards for auto design, he said, "the mother hen of traffic safety can go back to its coop; the action has moved elsewhere."

Mother hen was his derisive term for the safety council. The council replied that such charges are ridiculous and false. It said it gets only 4 per cent of its finances from the auto industry and that Nader has never made any effort to familiarize himself with the council's record.

This record shows, it said, that the council has criticized automobiles from a safety standpoint, and that it has criticized auto advertising as well. "In all fairness," the council said, "Mr. Nader has done fine work in focusing public attention on a great problem. But he has made mistakes which reflected unfairly on people and organizations."

The council does research and crusades for safety in many fields, on the farm, in the factory, on the highways, in the home.

It has 9,000 members, including insurance firms, banks, businesses, labor unions and individuals. Its president is Howard Pyle, former governor of Arizona.

Nader, in town Thursday to make a speech, elaborated in an interview on recent criticism of the council. The council, from its headquarters in Chicago, replied through Wayne Wille, assistant director of public relations.

Here is the gist of the argument, con and pro.

NADER
The council has never criticized a single auto manufacturer. It gets hundreds of thousands of dollars a year from the auto industry, and is now asking an $850,000 grant from the industry.

In the recent "huge outcry" about auto safety, its stand paralleled that of the industry. As late as last February, it opposed any federal legislation on auto safety standards.

Record Shows Dodd Was Reimbursed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate records show that Sen. Thomas J. Dodd was reimbursed for an airplane trip to Los Angeles in 1964, and the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce also reports it paid his fare.

The Connecticut Democrat, under investigation by the Senate ethics committee on misconduct charges, could not be reached for comment on the double payment.

On file in the Senate secretary's office is a report listing payment of $320.78 to Dodd as chairman of a Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee for a flight to Los Angeles on Feb. 27, 1964, from Baltimore's Friendship Airport and his return here on March 4.

In Los Angeles, Victor Stark, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, said it also had sent Dodd a check for $320.78 for his fare after he addressed the Jaycees there on Feb. 27, 1964.

Stark said that a check was sent to Dodd after he received a letter from Michael O'Hare, Dodd's former office manager, requesting payment.

Sources have reported that the ethics committee has subpoenaed bank and other financial records in its investigation.

The scene of the July 28 operation will be about 75 miles east of Kitty Hawk, N.C.

Rusk Calls on Russia to Talk Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on the Soviet Union today to join with Britain in reconvening the Geneva conference to discuss a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam conflict.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the 14-nation body which met at Geneva in 1954 and 1962 on Southeast Asia.

In an address to the International Platform Association, Rusk said repeatedly the Geneva meetings are the most suitable machinery for peace talks, provided both sides live up to their promises.

"We agree with that, but we assume that others also will comply — let us get on with it," Rusk said.

"We have tried in every way we know to engage the other side in negotiations for a peace settlement," he said.

"The obstacle to peace is not the United States. We are faced by a demand surmounting South Viet Nam or there cannot be peace."

Rusk told the lecturers' group the United States would not deal lightly with its commitments to defend Viet Nam and would resist the aggression of North Viet Nam.

At one point, he estimated there are now 14 North Viet Nam regiments fighting in South Viet Nam. Previous estimates had been that there are only 12 North Vietnamese combat regiments in the south.

Claims Atlantic Solo Flight

LONDON (AP) — Mation Hart, 74, of Washington, D.C., says she just flew the Atlantic solo for fun.

In London Thursday, Mrs. Hart, who nestled her single-engine Beechcraft Bonanza Wednesday among the giant jets at London airport said: "I was not thinking of setting any records. I was all set to come on a holiday accompanied by a woman friend. When she couldn't make it, I saw no good reason to sit at home."

Mrs. Hart said she first flew the Atlantic with a woman copilot in 1953.

Man Killed in Cleveland, Riots Flare

By RICHARD H. SMITH
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A shot fired from a moving car wounded a Negro motorist critically early today in guerrilla rioting that has wracked Cleveland's East Side Negro area for five nights.

Until the shooting about 3 a.m., police and National Guardsmen had kept relative calm in areas hit by fire bombing, shooting and vandalism since Monday night.

Shots were fired from the passenger-side window of a car carrying two white youths, police said. Six white youths were rounded up in pairs, within minutes, but police clamped a tight lid on information.

The man shot was identified as Benoris Toney, 29, a father of five. His wife said he was on the way to pick up a friend at work on the West Side.

He was the 10th victim of gunfire wounds in rioting that has taken three lives and caused heavy damage from fires and looting.

Toney was shot in a parking lot of a lumber company two miles outside the Hough (pronounced "buff") area where most of the rioting has occurred and which police and 1,750 National Guardsmen have sealed off.

The victim's car was still moving after the shots were fired. Police hunting a sniper in the area were in the parking lot when Toney was shot and took off quickly after the gunman's car.

The shooting heightened fears that riot-weary Cleveland is headed into a bad weekend. The violence Friday night moved nearer to white ethnic pockets in predominantly Negro neighborhoods where racial fighting occurred in 1964.

Police said Toney was struck in the face by a shotgun blast and part of his face had been blown away.

The fifth night of disorder saw police and National Guardsmen covering wider areas and being tougher about it.

Talks Resume Today in Air Strike

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The jet age airline strike fluttered into its third week at Kitty Hawk speed today amid mounting government exasperation.

"The injury being done to the country... cannot continue," said Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds. He urged both sides to remember "the third party at the bargaining table — namely the American public."

Several members of Congress drafted legislation aimed at forcing an end to the strike.

Talks were to resume today. President P. L. Seimiller of the striking AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists reported no progress and said he could not argue with estimates that the strike could last two more weeks.

"Ask the airlines. They control the pocketbook," Seimiller said. "I have not been informed of any change in the carriers' position... that would buy an agreement."

But Reynolds blamed Seimiller for the continued stalemate grounding five airlines that normally carry 60 per cent of American air traffic.

"He's the man in control of ending it," Reynolds said of the mild-mannered but tough-bargaining Seimiller.

Reynolds added that both sides "are not living up to their responsibilities to find an answer."

William J. Curtin, chief negotiator for the strikebound United, Eastern, National, Northwest and Trans World airlines, smiled and said nothing.

While the talks moved slower than the ground speed of the first Wright brothers airplane, federal mediators at least nipped a union plan that had threatened complete breakdown of negotiations.

Faubus Asked to Join Bond Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio has asked Gov. Orval Faubus to join a group of governors in protecting the use of tax-free municipal bonds for industrial financing, Faubus said Wednesday.

Faubus said in a statement that Gov. Rhodes wrote that the Treasury Department had given priority to the preparation of a bill "to be introduced in the Congress to remove the tax-exempt status of industrial bonds such as Act 9."

The Act 9 referred to is the act under which Arkansas issues industrial bonds.

Faubus said the success of such a bill would "seriously jeopardize our booming industrial economy."

Time Near as Candidates Get in Licks

Political observers and television viewers in Arkansas had little trouble figuring out that Thursday night was—to borrow language from the space age — Primary Minus Four and Counting.

All seven Democratic candidates for governor were busy appealing for votes, four doing so via television. More of the same is on tap tonight.

One of the candidates, Raymond Rebsamen, watched his pre-recorded speech from his bed, where his physician ordered him for a day or two. He was ordered to rest to relieve an inflamed joint in his back, aggravated by his campaigning. Rebsamen's headquarters said.

Rebsamen is expected to be back in action Saturday. The favorite in the Republican Party primary Tuesday, Winthrop Rockefeller, was in Washington for a speech before the International Platform Association. His opponent, Gus McMillan, didn't make any major pronouncements.

Here's a rundown of Thursday's activities on the Democratic side:

Dr. Dale Alford
In a speech at Jonesboro, Alford offered what he called further proof that Frank Holt, another Democrat seeking the governorship, was a machine candidate. He held up a newspaper clipping and told that audience that the ad advocating Holt's election was signed by Amorel Taylor of Clarksville, a member of the state Highway Commission.

Alford, who has endorsed university status for Arkansas State College at Jonesboro, criticized Holt for giving "six different 'ifs'" when asked about his position on making ASC a university.

Sam Boyce
Boyce said in a televised speech at Texarkana that reform of the Arkansas penal system is one of the state's most poignant needs. He said it was unreasonable to have a prison system run by convicts, trustees armed with rifles, disciplining by strapping and inadequate medical facilities.

Boyce said Arkansas is operating a school for convicts, with a faculty of convicts. At a night rally in Texarkana, Boyce promised to help southwest Arkansas grow in agriculture, industry and tourism.

Brooks Hays
Hays called for cleaner campaigns and fewer political polls in a statement from his Little Rock headquarters. "Such campaign tactics as rumor-mongering, false polls, character assassination and misinformation on issues should have no place in a clean, decently run campaign," he said.

$1.2 Million for Forest Park

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas Sens. J. William Fulbright and John L. McClellan announced a $1.2 million grant for the St. Francis Forest Park in Lee County.

The Commerce Department grant will be used to help build water, sewer and electrical systems, a swimming pool, access roads and camping accommodations. Total cost of the project is $1.7 million.

U.S. Pilot Escapes in Viet Nam

By GEORGE McARTHUR

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Navy pilot, shot down over Communist territory more than six months ago, escaped from a prison camp and was rescued from the jungle after a "one-in-a-million" sighting by another American flier, it was learned today.

The airman was reported suffering severe malnutrition and shock after his 23-day flight across some of the most difficult terrain in Asia.

The escape was disclosed by the U.S. military command, but spokesmen would give no details — in an effort, they said, to protect other prisoners who might be involved.

The rescued pilot was not identified for security reasons, but his next of kin have been notified, the U.S. command said.

An informed source said the escapee is a Navy lieutenant who had been held by the Communists for about five months.

He was spotted by an Air Force pilot last Wednesday or Thursday in the rugged jungle near the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone, which separates North and South Viet Nam.

Judging from the area of the rescue, the pilot may have been shot down over Laos. U.S. planes make daily sorties on the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos to cut the flow of supplies to the Communists in South Viet Nam.

All the U.S. command would say was contained in this terse announcement:

"A U.S. Navy pilot who was held prisoner of war by the Communists has escaped and returned to our control in Viet Nam. His next of kin have been notified. The identity of the pilot and all additional details must be withheld at this time for security reasons."

Four Robbers Gets $150,000 From Brinks

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Four masked gunmen held up a Brink's Inc., armored truck making a delivery at an electronics firm today and escaped with cash and checks estimated up to $150,000.

State police said the quartet, two reportedly carrying machine guns, looted the truck of $150,000 in cash and checks. However, Bedford police said the amount was between $58,000 and $64,000 believed to be all in cash.

Police at the scene were closeted with the truck crew and were not available to newsmen for a check on the exact loss.

Bedford Police Chief Donald Eunson said the robbers fled in a car reported stolen from Logan International Airport, Boston, some 15 miles from Bedford.

Dierks to Double Nashville Plant

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Dierks Forests Inc. said Thursday it plans to double the capacity of its gypsum plant at Briar, north of Nashville, by 1967. New employees will be required, but the number depends on business conditions, the firm said.

Falcon Series Figure Is III

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Tom Conway, 61, star of the "Falcon" film series, is reported out of a coma, although still in serious condition with a liver ailment.

Conway, brother of actor George Sanders, has been a patient at John Wesley County Hospital in Los Angeles since April.

Conway once estimated he made nearly $1 million in 280 film, radio and television appearances, but he was found destitute in a waterfront hotel last September.
